very good. In looking closer, I see there are substantial revisions to the text submitted, (b) (5) ACP. Is this reflective of SOL edits provided, or from other sources? I have no problem with the additional text, although makes this a wordier document.

"You must cite the authority that authorizes your agency to issue your notice."

Executive Orders are listed as acceptable nonstatutory authority.

Randy,

I have attached a draft of the notice you sent me today, with formatting corrections for the Federal Register.

Thanks, Kerry, for getting on this so quickly.
